

FAOWATER presents VIRTUALWATER

Water is part of any production process.

We need it to grow apples, as well as produce a packet of crisps.

The amount of water needed in this process depends where we are because climate and agricultural practices will be the most important players.

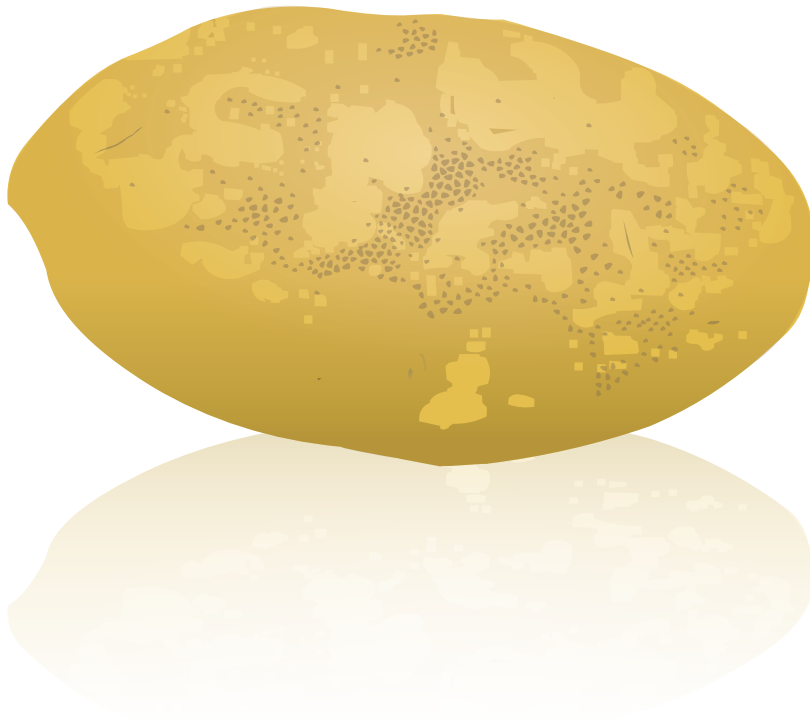

1 tomato

13
litres

HOW MUCH WATER IS

1 potato

25
litres

NEEDED TO PRODUCE

1 cup of tea

35

litres

?

VIRTUALWATER

presented by FAO WATER

1 slice of bread

40

litres

1 glass of wine

120

litres

1 glass of beer

75
litres

1 glass of apple juice

190

litres

1 glass of orange juice

170

litres

1 cup of coffee

140

litres

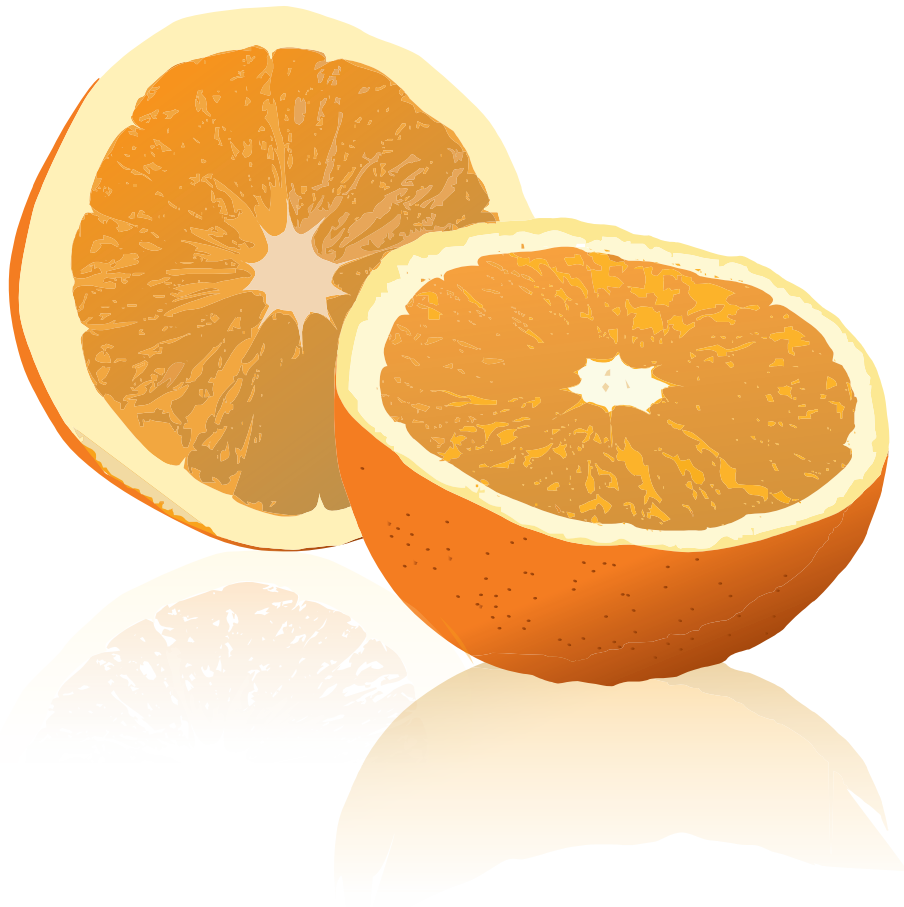

1 glass of milk

200

litres

1 orange

50

litres

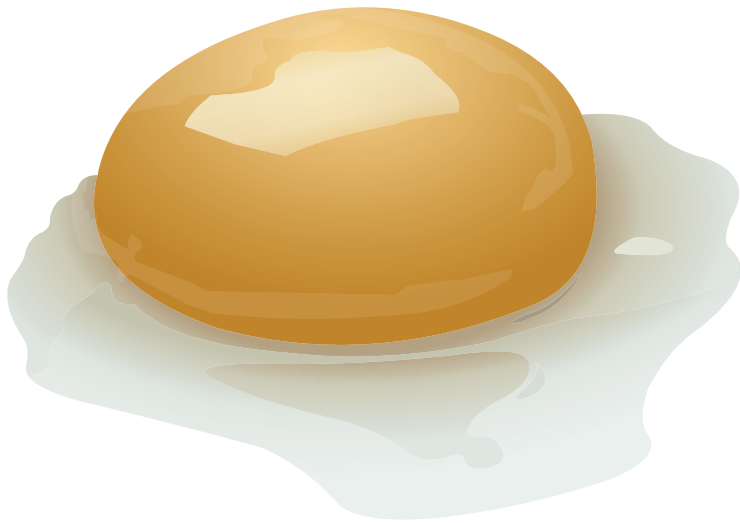

1 apple

70

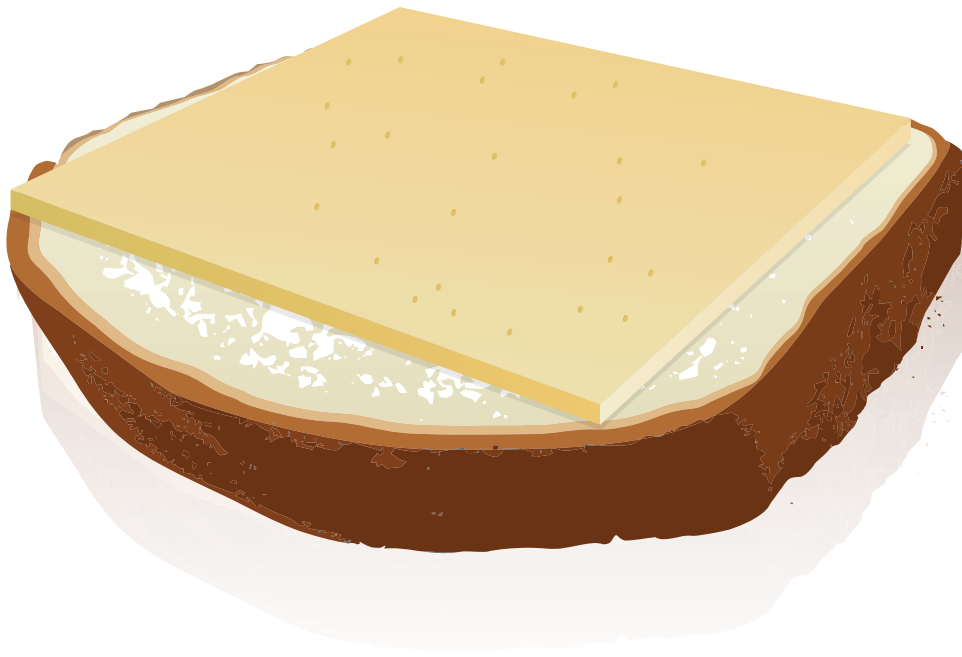

litres

1 egg

135
litres

1 slice of bread with cheese

90

litres

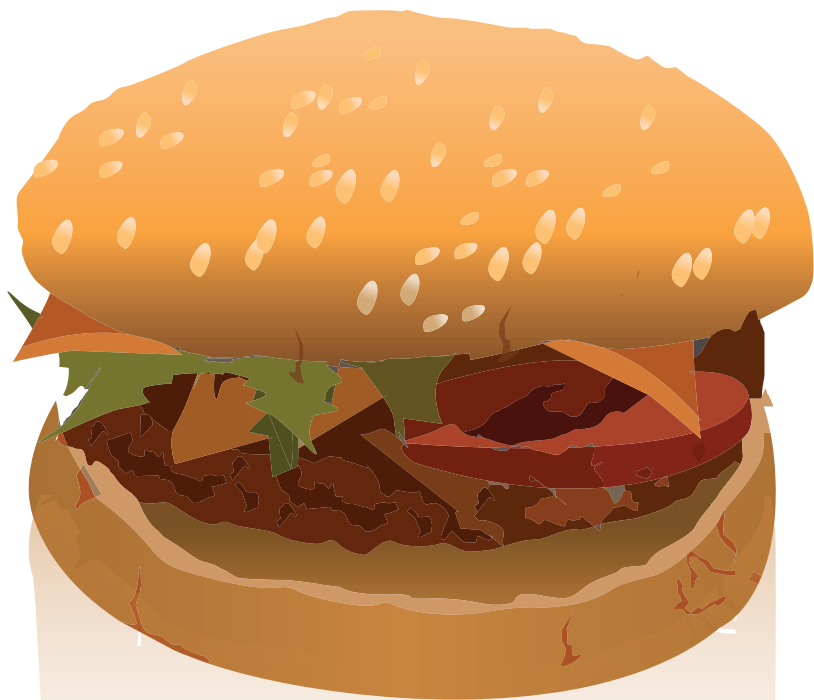

1 bag of potato crisps

185

litres

1 hamburger

2400

litres